RESIDENT CAMPER POLICIES

Room Damage: At the conclusion of camp, your instructor will check your room for any damage, for general cleanliness and to make sure all of your linens are accounted for or you will be charged. Leave all of these items in your room. Do not bring them to the front desk at check-out. If there is pre-existing room damage, it should be brought to the attention of the UNC volleyball staff as well as the front desk of the dorm when you check-in. This will ensure you will not be charged for pre-existing damage. Be sure to check your drawers and closets for all items before leaving your room.

If any damage happened to occur to the rooms or any resident hall property, the responsible camper will be required to pay the damage costs in-full.

Dorm Safety: Do not prop dorm doors open as this allows anyone to enter the building. There is a 24-hour dorm supervisor at the front. Staff will be on the floors in the evening with a "UNC Staff" sign on their door. Do not use side exit doors after 9:00pm as they could set off a fire alarm and the University may charge you for any related expense. Camp Staff will be assigned to the dorms for each camp.

*You may not have any boys on the dorm floors. You will be sent home if you violate this policy. You will forfeit your camp fee.

*You may not leave campus at any time during the camp or clinic. Any special exceptions must be cleared by the head coach prior to leaving.

General Safety: We ask that all campers (resident and day campers) do not leave the campus during your stay here at UNC. You may not drive your car in between daily camp sessions nor are you permitted to give any person a ride. If you need something, please see a camp staff member and we will try to meet your needs as quickly as possible. You should not leave the dorm at night. You can hang out in the main lobby of your dorm. When you are on the floors, be courteous of other campers and staff. They may wish to sleep so confine your noise to inside your dorm room.

Towel Exchange: You may trade your towel in daily at the front desk. On the last day, keep your towel in the room for check-out.

Behavior: The UNC Volleyball Camp and Clinic Program has an excellent reputation for the behavior of the student-athletes who are in attendance. You need to observe all behavior/curfew expectations while visiting as our guest. Remember you are a guest while you are here at UNC. Any inappropriate behavior can result in you being sent home without refund of your camp tuition. You are a guest of the University of Northern Colorado. Inappropriate behavior can result in you being sent home without refund of camp tuition.

Dismissal: Camp is over daily at 8:00 p.m., except for the last day. Make arrangements to be picked up at these times at Bank of Colorado Arena if you are not staying overnight. If you are staying overnight your parents can meet you at Lawrenson Hall for check-out. Your parents are welcome to watch any session. There will be a tournament on the last day which parents are invited to attend.
